as a building type art museums are unparalleled for the opportunities they provide for architectural investigation and experimentation they are frequently key components of urban revitalization and often push the limits of building technology art museums are places of pleasure education and contemplation they are remarkable by their prominence and sheer quantity and their lessons are useful for all architects and for all building types this book provides explicit and comprehensive coverage of the most important museums built in the first ten years of the 21st century in the united states and europe by dissecting and analyzing each case ronnie self allows the reader to get under the skin of each design and fully understand the process behind these remarkable buildings richly designed with full technical illustrations and sections the book includes the work of tadao ando zaha hadid peter cook colin fournier renzo piano yoshi taniguchi herzog de meuron jean nouvel sanaa daniel libeskind diller scofidio renfro steven holl coop himmelb l au bernard tschumi sauerbruch hutton and shigeru ban jean de gastines together these diverse projects provide a catalogue of design solutions for the contemporary museum and a snapshot of current architectural thought and culture one of few books on this subject written by an architect self s analysis thoroughly and critically appraises each project from multiple aspects and crucially takes the reader from concept to building this is an essential book for any professional engaged in designing a museum this book reports on several advances in architectural graphics with a special emphasis on education training and research it gathers a selection of contributions to the 20th international congress of architectural graphic expression ega 2024 held on may 27 29 2024 in porto portugal with the motto graphic horizons this is the first of a 3 volume set this book is about perception emotion and affect in architecture how and why we feel the way that we do and the ways in which our surroundings and bodies contribute to this our experience of architecture is an embodied one with all our senses acting in concert as we move through time and space the book picks up where much of the critique of architectural aestheticism at the end of the twentieth century left off illustrating the limitations and potential consequences of attending to architecture as the visually biased practice which has steadily become the status quo within both industry and education it draws upon interdisciplinary research to elucidate the reasons why this is counter productive to the creation of meaningful places and to articulate the embodied richness of our touching encounters a felt phenomenology is introduced as a more than visual alternative capable of sustaining our physical emotional and psychological well being by recognising the reciprocal and participatory relationship that exists between atmospheric affect and our phenomenological bodies we begin to appreciate the manifold ways in which we touch and are touched by our built environment as such touching architecture will appeal to those with an interest in architectural history and theory as well as those interested in the topic of atmospheres affect and embodied perception this lavishly illustrated volume is the first major global history of ornament from the middle ages to today crossing historical and geographical boundaries in unprecedented ways and considering the role of ornament in both art and architecture histories of ornament offers a nuanced examination that integrates medieval renaissance baroque and modern euroamerican traditions with their islamic indian chinese and mesoamerican counterparts at a time when ornament has re emerged in architectural practice and is a topic of growing interest to art and architectural historians the book reveals how the long history of ornament illuminates its global resurgence today organized by thematic sections on the significance influence and role of ornament the book addresses ornament s current revival in architecture its historiography and theories its transcontinental mobility in medieval and early modern europe and the middle east and its place in the context of industrialization and modernism throughout histories of ornament emphasizes the portability and politics of ornament figuration versus abstraction cross cultural dialogues and the constant negotiation of local and global traditions featuring original essays by more than two dozen scholars from around the world this authoritative and wide ranging book provides an indispensable reference on the histories of ornament in a global context contributors include michele bacci fribourg university anna contadini university of london thomas b f cummins harvard chanchal dadlani wake forest daniela del pesco universita degli studi roma tre vittoria di palma usc anne dunlop university of melbourne marzia faietti university of bologna maria judith feliciano independent scholar finbarr barry flood nyu jonathan hay nyu christopher p heuer clark art rémi labrusse université paris ouest nanterre la défense g  lru necipo  lu harvard marco rosario nobile university of palermo oya pancaro  lu bosphorus university spyros papapetros princeton alina payne harvard antoine picon harvard david pullins harvard jennifer l roberts harvard david j roxburgh harvard hashim sarkis mit robin schuldenfrei courtauld avinoam shalem columbia and gerhard wolf khi florence the pressing economic environmental and social crises emanate the need for a redefinition of the dominant views perspectives and values in the field of architecture the intellectual production of the last two decades has witnessed an impressive number of new design techniques and conceptual displacements reflecting the dynamic and fluid relation between man and his dwelling space however the contemporary market forces are favouring the growth of a star system in architectural production based on technological innovation spectacular imagery and formal acrobatics and are neglecting the social environmental and moral implications of spatial design perhaps the time has come to think anew the possible critical intersections between space and ethos not only as an answer to the negative consequences of modernity but also as a remedy to the negative aspects of globalisation the aim of the present collective volume is to enliven the ethical dimensions and dilemmas of architecture as they are shaped within the complexity of our times on two levels the level of critical and reflective discourse and the level of social and cultural reality occasioned by post industrial modes of production and new technologies thirteen distinguished academics and researchers investigate the complex relations between architecture space and ethics from divergent and interdisciplinary perspectives philosophy sociology the humanities the arts landscape design environmental design urban design and architectural history and theory the average lifespan of a house is somewhere around 100 years during that time it will see many mutations in household composition and related spatial rituals designers are therefore faced with the task of giving form to something that is constantly subject to change many studies into flexibility focus on the changeable on movable partitions and variation in the internal layout the present study takes not the changeable but the permanent as its departure point the permanent i.e. the more durable component of the house or building constitutes the frame within which change can take place while the frame defines the generic space the space in which change can occur this follow up to kate nesbitt's best selling anthology theorizing a new agenda collects twenty eight essays that address architecture theory from the mid 1990s where nesbitt left off through the present kristin sykes offers an overview of the myriad approaches and attitudes adopted by architects and architectural theorists during this era multiple themes including the impact of digital technologies on processes of architectural design production materiality and representation the implications of globalization and networks of information the growing emphasis on sustainable and green architecture and the phenomenon of the starchitect and iconic architecture appear against a background colored by architectural theory as it existed from the 1960s on in a period of transition if not crisis that centers around the perceived abyss between theory and practice theory's transitional state persists today rendering its immediate history particularly relevant to contemporary thought and practice while other collections of recent theoretical writings exist none attempt to address the situation as a whole providing in one place key theoretical texts of the past decade and a half this book provides a foundation for ongoing discussions surrounding contemporary architectural thought and practice with iconic essays by greg lynn deborah berke sanford kwinter samuel mockbee stan allen rem koolhaas william mitchell anthony vidler micahel hays reinhold martin reiser umemoto glenn murcutt william mcdonough micahael braungart michael speaks and many more
