the material of this autobiography which mahatma gandhi has called the story of my experiments with truth was first dictated by him in his own mother tongue to one of his fellow political prisoners during long imprisonment in the years 1922-24. it was afterward continued in a serial form as a feature of his gujarati paper called navajivan and translated into english by his intimate friends mahadev desai and pyarelal nair receiving at the same time his own careful revision miss slade who is known in mr gandhi's ashram as mirabehn also assisted in shaping its final english form. the whole series of short chapters has now been published by the navajivan press at ahmedabad in two large volumes containing over twelve hundred octavo pages. another book of equal importance has been used wherein mahatma gandhi describes personally his own soul force in south africa and the translation has been made by valji govindji desai. its indian publisher is mr s. ganesan triplicane madras india. when we turn to the three volumes and try to gain the clue to mahatma gandhi's estimate of human conduct it will be found to centre in three cardinal virtues current in all his writings these are truth loving kindness and inner purity. since this book was compiled and edited the indian situation has become very grave indeed.

mahatma gandhi through his indomitable will and selfless determination transformed himself into a model of courage and integrity for india's people to emulate in their non violent struggle for political power. more than half a century after his death gandhi continues to inspire millions throughout the world yet modern india seems to have abandoned much of his non violent vision. joining the nuclear arms race inspired by recent events in india stanley wolpert offers this subtle and profound biography of india's great soul. wolpert compellingly chronicles the life of mahatma gandhi from his early days as a child of privilege to his humble rise to power and his assassination at the hands of a man of his own faith. this trajectory like that of christ was the result of gandhi's passion his conscious courting of suffering as the means of reaching divine truth from his
