the first crisis in energy prices was undoubtedly a strong stimulus for the involvement of the commission of the european communities in research and development on alternative energy sources indeed the need to overcome difficulties faced by the community as a whole particularly those resulting from its severely unbalanced energy supply made a common community approach seem especially apt this reasoning also applies to energy r d bearing in mind that responses to the crisis should be not only political or economic but also scientific four years have passed since the decision of the council of ministers to launch the first community energy research and development programme dealing with geothermal energy solar energy hydrogen production and utilization energy conservation and energy systems analysis a seminar on geothermal energy was held two years ago to report on work in progress at the half way stage of the four year programme the second international seminar reported in this volume was arranged so as to provide an opportunity to examine the final outcome of this community investment in research in geothermal energy this proceedings volume therefore has two main aims to present an evaluation of the results of the community geothermal programme by means of 83 formal reports describing the individual research programmes to show how the community research programme fits into the overall context of national and international research on geothermal energy by including the presentations of six guest speakers who introduced the sessions and gave keynote addresses a brilliant unknown work by the great historian hugh trevor roper among the papers of hugh trevor roper who died in 2003 was a manuscript to which he had repeatedly turned for more than thirty years but never published attracted by the diverse life and vivid personality of sir theodore de mayerne 1573 1655 the most famous physician in europe of his time trevor roper pursued him across national and intellectual frontiers to uncover the details of his extraordinary life exploring an array of english and european sources trevor roper reveals the story of the pioneering swiss huguenot doctor who mixed medicine with diplomacy with political intrigue with secret intelligence and with artistic interests at the courts first of henry iv of france and then of james i and charles i of england a true renaissance man mayerne s interests were broad and due to considerable conspiratorial talent he became a participant in bluff and intrigue at the highest levels the most ambitious and perhaps the most original of all trevor roper s books written in his luminous prose this is a major work of political and intellectual history that presents a whole period in a fresh and vivid light
