life writing in its various forms does work that other forms of expression do not it bears on the world in a way distinct from imaginative genres like fiction drama and poetry it acts in and on history in significant ways memoirs of illness and disability often seek to depathologize the conditions that they recount memoirs of parents by their children extend or alter relations forged initially face to face in the home at a time when memoir and other forms of life writing are being produced and consumed in unprecedented numbers this book reminds readers that memoir is not mainly a literary genre or mere entertainment similarly letters are not merely epiphenomena of our real lives correspondence does not just serve to communicate it enacts and sustains human relationships memoir matters and there s life in letters all life writing arises of our daily lives and has distinctive impacts on them and the culture in which we live a collection of short inspiring teachings on zen koans the buddha and more from a leader in introducing zen buddhism to the west here is the first major collection of the teachings of taizan maezumi roshi 1931 1995 one of the first japanese zen masters to bring zen to the west and founding abbot of the zen center of los angeles and zen mountain center in idyllwild california these short inspiring readings illuminate zen practice in simple eloquent language topics include zazen and zen koans how to appreciate your life as the life of the buddha and the essential matter of life and death appreciate your life conveys maezumi roshi s unique spirit and teaching style as well as his timeless insights into the practice of zen never satisfied with merely conveying ideas his teisho the zen talks he gave weekly and during retreats evoked personal questions from his students maezumi roshi insisted that his students address these questions in their own lives as he often said be intimate with your life the readings are not teachings or instructions in the traditional sense they are transcriptions of the master s teisho living presentations of his direct experience of zen realization these teisho are crystalline offerings of zen insight intended to reach beyond the student s intellect to her or his deepest essence these days when zen has become a kind of shorthand for anything that s enigmatic or aesthetically spare it s refreshing be reminded that zen is at heart a practice for waking up from the dream we inhabit in order to free ourselves from the suffering the dream imposes on us elihu genmyo smith s eminently practical zen teaching never loses sight of that central concern whether it takes the form of zazen meditation koan work or just eating your breakfast the aim of zen practice is always nothing other than intimacy with ourselves and everything around us if you ve been a christian for a while you probably know that prayer is one of the staples of the christian life although we know that how much time and consideration have we given to really understanding this thing called prayer building a strong prophetic prayer life and understanding spiritual warfare through prophetic prayer is very important one of the most effective strategies of satan is to keep believers ignorant of his devices paul said it is important to know satan s strategies lest satan should get an advantage of us for we are not ignorant of his devices ii corinthians 2 11 we should learn all we can about satan s strategies of attack and how to counter attack it we must also understand the scriptural basis of victory over satan and the forces of evil we are called to intelligent combat this innovative book shows that the health education and employment of billions of people have been improving on every continent in the past three decades the globalization of welfare has had the biggest impact in developing countries where more than five sixths of the world s population lives in africa asia latin america and the middle east there has been great progress in eradicating infant mortality and illiteracy people are living longer and more young people are able to obtain a secondary education these achievements are the product of a welfare mix combining resources of the household the market and the state given low starting points only a minority of developing countries have already caught up with the high standards of welfare in europe the united states and canada and the asia pacific region slow but steady rates of progress show that people in a majority of developing countries can expect to catch up with the high fixed standards of welfare in the next three decades this will happen sooner in china and later in india because china has been unusually successful in using its resources to promote welfare while india has been below the global average these conclusions are based on richard rose s systematic analysis of the global welfare database which combines official and unofficial data covering 95 per cent of the world s population the success of highly developed countries raises questions about how much is enough welfare at what age will young people learn more by leaving classrooms and becoming employees is length of life or quality of life more important for older people should unpaid work caring for children and older family members have the same value as working and paying taxes in the official economy
