manifestos for history is a thought provoking and controversial text that through a star studded collection of essays presents a wide ranging discussion of the nature and future of history in the twenty first century a wide reaching collection of groundbreaking feminist documents from around the world feminist manifestos is an unprecedented collection of 150 documents from feminist organizations and gatherings in over 50 countries over the course of three centuries in the first book of its kind the manifestos are shown to contain feminist theory and recommend actions for change and also to expand our very conceptions of feminist thought and activism covering issues from political participation education religion and work to reproduction violence racism and environmentalism the manifestos together challenge simplistic definitions of gender and feminist movements in exciting ways in a wide ranging introduction penny weiss explores the value of these documents especially how they speak with and to each other in addition an introduction to each individual document contextualizes and enhances our understanding of it weiss is particularly invested in how communities work together toward social change which is demonstrated through her choice to include only collectively authored texts by assembling these documents into an accessible volume weiss reveals new possibilities for social justice and ways to advocate for equality a unique and inspirational collection feminist manifestos expands and evolves our understanding of feminism through the self described agendas of women from every ethnic group religion and region in the world understanding cities is richly textured complex and challenging it creates the vital link between urban design theory and praxis and opens the required methodological gateway to a new and unified field of urban design using spatial political economy as his most important reference point alexander cuthbert both interrogates and challenges mainstream urban design and provides an alternative and viable comprehensive framework for a new synthesis he rejects the idea of yet another theory in urban design and chooses instead to construct the necessary intellectual and conceptual scaffolding for what he terms the new urban design building both on michel de certeau s concept of heterology thinking about thinking and on the framework of his previous books designing cities and the form of cities cuthbert uses his prior adopted framework history philosophy politics culture gender environment aesthetics typologies and pragmatics to create three integrated texts overall the trilogy allows a new field of urban design to emerge pre existing and new knowledge are integrated across all three volumes of which understanding cities is the culminating text
