this innovative new book is overtly and explicitly about female agency in eighteenth century european towns however it positions female activity and decisions unequivocally in an urban world of institutions laws regulations customs and ideologies gender politics complicated and shaped the day to day experiences of working women town rules and customs as well as police and guilds regulations affected women's participation in the urban economy most of the time the formally recognized and legally accepted power of women which is an essential component of female agency was very limited yet these chapters draw attention to how women navigated these gendered terrains as the book demonstrates exclusion is too strong a word for the realities and pragmatism of women's everyday lives frequently guild and corporate regulations were more about situating women and regulating their activities rather than preventing them from operating in the urban economy similarly corporate structures which were under stress found flexible strategies to incorporate women who through their own initiative and activities put pressure on the systems women could benefit from the contradictions between moral and social unwritten norms and economic regulations and could take advantage of the tolerance or complicity of urban authorities towards illicit practices women with a grasp of their rights and privileges could defend themselves and exploit legal systems with its loopholes and contradictions to achieve economic independence and power god's word illumines the darkness of society groen van prinsterer's unbelief and revolution is a foundational work addressing the inherent tension between religion and modernity as a historian and politician groen was intimately familiar with the growing divide between secular culture and the church in his time rather than embrace this division these lectures originally published in 1847 argue for a renewed interaction between the two spheres groen's work served as an inspiration for many contemporary theologians and as a mentor to abraham kuyper he had a profound impact on kuyper's famous public theology harry van dyke the original translator reintroduces this vital contribution to our understanding of the relationship between religion and society this is the fourth volume of models of the history of philosophy a collaborative work on the history of the history of philosophy dating from the renaissance to the end of the nineteenth century the volume covers the so called hegelian age in which the approach to the past of philosophy is placed at the foundation of doing philosophy up to identifying with the same philosophy a philosophy which is however understood in a different way as dialectical development as hermeneutics as organic development as eclectic option as a philosophy of experience as a progressive search for truth through the repetition of errors the material is divided into four large linguistic and cultural areas the german french italian and british it offers the detailed analysis of 10 particularly significant works of the way of conceiving and reconstructing the general history of philosophy from its origins to the contemporary age this systematic exposure is preceded and accompanied by lengthy introductions on the historical background and references to numerous other works bordering on philosophical historiography
