human dependence on technology has increased exponentially over the past several centuries and so too has the notion that we can fix environmental problems with scientific applications the virtues of ignorance complexity sustainability and the limits of knowledge proposes an alternative to this hubristic shortsighted and dangerous worldview the contributors argue that uncritical faith in scientific knowledge has created many of the problems now threatening the planet and that our wholesale reliance on scientific progress is both untenable and myopic bill vitek wes jackson and a diverse group of thinkers including wendell berry anna peterson and robert root bernstein offer profound arguments for the advantages of an ignorance based worldview their essays explore this philosophy from numerous perspectives including its origins its essence and how its implementation can preserve vital natural resources for posterity all conclude that we must simply accept the proposition that our ignorance far exceeds our knowledge and always will rejecting the belief that science and technology are benignly at the service of society the authors argue that recognizing ignorance might be the only path to reliable knowledge they also uncover an interesting paradox knowledge and insight accumulate fastest in the minds of those who hold an ignorance based worldview for by examining the alternatives to a technology based culture they expand their imaginations demonstrating that knowledge based worldviews are more dangerous than useful the virtues of ignorance looks closely at the relationship between the land and the future generations who will depend on it the authors argue that we can never improve upon nature but that we can by putting this new perspective to work in our professional and personal lives live sustainably on earth would aliens use facebook to communicate with us rather than trust our politicians earth may be regarded as having an oddity a zoo or something of an amusement the universe is a wild place we re part of it but what is it to understand how aliens sees us we first have to understand our own history of exploration contact and diplomacy like when the old world powers with the new world tribes earth history is littered with cruel jokes on unwitting peoples where the collision of east meets west ends with a party screwed over or just wiped out of existence why should earth s destiny among other races of the universe be any different fortunately we can all agree on the implications of mixing with advanced alien cultures yet technology shifts the means by which alien contact and diplomacy wants to integrate with our digital world the responsibility for contact has moved from military elites and those in the know to the contrary connected public soon now or a day in the future we want to make real alien contact and our diplomacy either wants to have it subjugated and naively enslaved or equipped with knowledge and technology that enables us to explore the stars
