mel gibson s the passion of the christ has become one of the most controversial films ever made and it is already a blockbuster of cinematography its defenders passionately regard it as one of the most moving and influential pieces of religious art ever created but its detractors argue with comparable vehemence that the violence and gore it contains its alleged anti semitism a particular take on the christian message and the lack of historical and biblical accuracy make it nothing more than a kind of political propaganda father thomas rosica hailed as one of the great masterpieces of religious art but the secular humanist paul kurtz thinks of it as a political weapon in the hands of the religious right film critics are divided in their judgment giving the film anywhere from no stars to five stars regardless of what one thinks of the film however its impact both personal and social is beyond question

william gibson s neuromancer a critical companion presents gibson s rise as an influential figure within and beyond the science fiction field gibson s success with neuromancer the first novel to win the hugo award nebula award and philip k dick award is in part a direct result of the rising popularity of cyberpunk in the early to mid 1980s although it could just as easily be said cyberpunk s success was in no small part a direct result of neuromancer s explosion onto the science fiction scene neuromancer s ongoing relevance remains undiminished because we are effectively living in a technocultural age that is increasingly difficult to distinguish from gibson s novel as graham j murphy demonstrates in this companion the novel remains instrumental in thinking through the ongoing explorations of the posthuman transhumanism the utopia anti utopia dynamic and capitalist realism to name a few of themore significant critical vehicles with which to better understand and contextualize our technocultural age and neuromancer s role in both shaping it and responding to it this book provides a critical introduction to neuromancer and cyberpunk culture an exciting and engaging book that will appeal not only to academics but to the film viewing public educated lay persons and students not only will the book aid this audience in a greater appreciation of the film the passion of the christ but perhaps more importantly it will enable the reader to distinguish between both the contents of the film and the contents of the gospels and between the contents of the film and what may be historically reconstructed about jesus furthermore the book will aid the reader to appreciate the contributions that the study of the gospels and the historical study of jesus can make to the discussion of the film the passion of the christ jesus and mel gibson s the passion of the christ is edited by kathleen e corley oshkosh northwestern distinguished professor and professor of new testament at the university of wisconsin oshkosh wisconsin and robert l webb an independent scholar living near toronto ontario canada the other contributors are dr john dominic crossan professor emeritus of religious studies at depaul university illinois dr helen k bond lecturer in new testament language literature and theology at new college university of edinburgh uk dr craig a evans payzant distinguished professor of new testament at acadia divinity college nova scotia canada dr mark goodacre senior lecturer in new testament at the department of theology university of birmingham uk dr glenna s jackson associate professor in the department of religion
