this edition of the canadian encyclopedia is the largest most comprehensive book ever published in canada for the general reader it is complete every aspect of canada from its rock formations to its rock bands is represented here it is unabridged all of the information in the four red volumes of the famous 1988 edition is contained here in this single volume it has been expanded since 1988 teams of researchers have been diligently fleshing out old entries and recording new ones as a result the text from 1988 has grown by 50 to over 4 000 000 words it has been updated the researchers and contributors worked hard to make the information as current as possible other words apply to this extraordinary work of scholarship authoritative reliable and readable every entry is compiled by an expert equally important every entry is written for a canadian reader from the canadian point of view the finished work many years in the making and the equivalent of forty average sized books is an extraordinary storehouse of information about our country this book

deserves pride of place on the bookshelf in every canadian home it is no accident that the cover of this book is based on the canadian flag for the proud truth is that this volume represents a great national achievement from its formal inception in 1979 this encyclopedia has always represented a vote of faith in canada in canada as a separate place whose natural worlds and whose peoples and their achievements deserve to be recorded and celebrated at the start of a new century and a new millennium in an increasingly borderless corporate world that seems ever more hostile to national distinctions and aspirations this canadian encyclopedia is offered in a spirit of defiance and of faith in our future the statistics behind this volume are staggering the opening sixty pages list the 250 consultants the roughly 4 000 contributors all experts in the field they describe and the scores of researchers editors typesetters proofreaders and others who contributed their skills to this massive project the 2 640 pages incorporate over 10 000 articles and over 4 000 000 words making it the largest some might say the greatest canadian book ever published there are of course many special features these include a map of canada a special page comparing the key statistics of the 23 major canadian cities maps of our cities a variety of tables and photographs and finely detailed illustrations of our wildlife not to mention the colourful informative endpapers but above all the book is encyclopedic which the canadian oxford dictionary describes as embracing all branches of learning this means that with rare exceptions there is satisfaction for the reader who seeks information on any canadian subject from the first entry a mari usque ad mare from sea to sea which is canada s motto and a good description of this volume s range to the zouaves who mustered in quebec to fight for the beleaguered papacy there is the required summary of information clearly and accurately presented for the browser the constant variety of entries and the lure of regular cross references will provide hours of fascination the word encyclopedia derives from greek expressions alluding to a grand circle of knowledge our knowledge has expanded immeasurably since the time that one mind could encompass all that was known yet now canada s finest scientists academics and specialists have distilled their knowledge of our country between the covers of one volume the result is a book for every canadian who values learning and values canada

the australian nation is a work in progress so conclude the authors whose views are represented in this most recent offering in the anzso monograph series australia under construction nation building past present and future from its beginnings as a settler society through to present day concerns about broadbanding the nation the nation building narrative has resonated with australians the very idea of nation building has both excited the popular imagination about what we might achieve as a society and a nation and has occasioned despair about missed opportunities the eleven authors contributing to this monograph reflect on these and other themes from a variety of perspectives they challenge our understanding of the term nation building reflect on its contemporary relevance as a framework for public policy and even re appraise the contribution of past iconic nation building endeavours to this subject the authors bring intelligence wit and a healthy disdain for sacred cows a stimulating read for anyone interested in the history challenges and prospects of nation building in australia formal programs for the care and education of young children in canada have a history that goes back almost 200 years yet issues surrounding services for our youngest canadians continue to be hotly contested as we begin a new century in canada early childhood care and education are striking for their tremendous diversity on such key issues as curriculum financing and teacher education the range of programs and philosophies can be overwhelming for parents practitioners academics researchers and policy makers alike larry prochner and nina howe reflect the variation within the field by bringing together a multidisciplinary group of experts to address key issues in the field what programs are currently available and what are their origins how are adults prepared for work in these programs how do children within the programs spend their day what policies guide the programs how has the field reflected on itself through research there are no simple answers but the essays in this collection contribute to a creative reframing of the questions the authors include psychologists sociologists historians teacher educators and social policy analysts early childhood care and education in canada will be of interest to students teachers and researchers in child study early education policy studies and history with cutbacks to early education programs a shortage of daycare spaces and uncertainty about future levels of support the time is ripe for a close examination of the services we provide for our youngest citizens an examination of the connections between modernist writers and editorial activities making canada new draws links among new and old media collaborative labour emergent scholars and scholarships and digital modernisms in doing so the collection reveals that renovating modernisms does not need to depend on the fabrication of completely new modes of scholarship rather it is the repurposing of already existing practices and combining them with others whether old or new print or digital that instigates a process of continuous renewal critical to this process of renewal is the intermingling of print and digital research methods and the coordination of more popular modes of literary scholarship with less frequented ones such as bibliography textual studies and editing making canada new tracks the editorial renovation of modernism as a digital phenomenon while speaking to the continued production of print editions in this new and updated edition the authors once again examine policy making in one of the most significant areas of activity in the canadian economy natural resources and the environment and discuss the evolution of resource policies from the early era of exploitation to the present era of resource and environmental management using an integrated political economy and policy perspective the book provides an analytic framework from which the foundation of ideological perspectives administrative structures and substantive issues are explored departing from traditional approaches that emphasize a single discipline or perspective it offers an interdisciplinary framework with which to think through ecological political economic and social issues it also provides a multi stage analysis of policy making from agenda setting through the evaluation process the integration of social science perspectives and the combination of theoretical and empirical work make this innovative book one of the most comprehensive analyses of canadian natural resource and environmental policy to date its illumination of the key elements of government policy making in this critical sector and its new outline of the evolution of the kyoto protocol makes it a useful textbook and resource for students of environmental and public policy policy makers and environmental organizations the oxford handbook of presbyterianism provides a state of the art reference tool written by leading scholars in the fields of religious studies and history a history of chinese immigrants encounter with canadian protestant missionaries his dominion and the yellow peril protestant missions to chinese immigrants in canada 1859 1967 analyzes the evangelizing activities of missionaries and the role of religion in helping chinese immigrants affirm their ethnic identity in a climate of cultural conflict jiwu wang argues that by working toward a vision of canada that espoused anglo saxon protestant values missionaries inevitably reinforced popular cultural stereotypes about the chinese and widened the gap between chinese and canadian communities those immigrants who did embrace the christian faith felt isolated from their community and their old way of life but they were still not accepted by mainstream society although the missionaries goal was to assimilate the chinese into anglo saxon protestant culture it was chinese religion and cultural values that helped the immigrants maintain their identity and served to protect them from the intrusion of the protestant missions wang documents the methods used by the missionaries and the responses from the chinese community noting the shift in approach that took place in the 1920s when the clergy began to preach respect for chinese ways and sought to welcome them into protestant canadian life although in the early days of the missions chinese canadians rejected the evangelizing to take what education they could from the missionaries as time went on and prejudice lessened they embraced the christian faith as a way to gain acceptance as canadians
