this paper presents details of a symposium on forecasting performance i organized under the auspices of the imf staff papers the assumption that the forecaster s goal is to do as well as possible in predicting the actual outcome is sometimes questionable In the context of private sector forecasts this is because the incentives for forecasters may induce them to herd rather than to reveal their true forecasts public sector forecasts may also be distorted although for different reasons forecasts associated with imf programs for example are often the result of negotiations between the imf staff and the country authorities and are perhaps more accurately viewed as goals or targets rather than pure forecasts the standard theory of time series forecasting involves a variety of components including the choice of an information set the choice of a cost function and the evaluation of forecasts in terms of the average costs of the forecast errors it is generally acknowledged that by including more relevant information in the information set one should be able to produce better forecasts in historical writing the interwar years are often associated with the rise of extreme forms of nationalism yet paradoxically this period also saw significant advances in the development of internationalism and international mindedness this collection examines previously under researched aspects of the role played by women s movements and individual female activists in this process women campaigners contributed to and helped to re define what constituted international work in myriad ways for some particularly those coming from a radical pacifist background the central theme after 1919 was the eradication of war and the preservation of world peace yet others were more interested in the sharing of medical knowledge across borders in the promotion of new causes such as physical fitness or the cultural assimilation of immigrants or in finding fresh and innovative ways of battling for old causes such as female suffrage and women s access to education it was even possible for nationalist women to use the language and practices of internationalism to further their own conservative illiberal or anti communist agendas or to argue for revision of the peace treaties of 1919 20 the volume addresses these different kinds of activism and the many links between them by way of particular examples this book was originally published as a special issue of women s history review
