this edited book demonstrates a new multidimensional comprehension of the relationship between war the military and civil society by exploring the global rise of paramilitary culture moving beyond binary understandings that inform the militarization of culture thesis and examining various national and cultural contexts the collection outlines ways in which a process of paramilitarization is shaping the world through the promotion of new warrior archetypes it is argued that while the paramilitary hero is associated with military themes their character is in tension with the central principals of modern military organization something that often challenges the state s perceived monopoly on violence as such paramilitization has profound implications for institutional military identity the influence of paramilitary organizations and broadly how organised violence is popularly understood can we construct a grand strategy to counter terrorism fifteen years after september 11 the united states still faces terror threats both domestic and foreign after years of wars ever more intensive and pervasive surveillance enhanced security measures at major transportation centers and many attempts to explain who we are fighting and why and how to fight them the threats continue to multiply so too do our attempts to understand just what terrorism is and how to counter it two leaders in the field of terrorism studies martha crenshaw and gary lafree provide a critical look at how we have dealt with the terror threat over the years they make clear why it is so difficult to create policy to counter terrorism the foes are multiple and often amorphous the study of the field dogged by disagreement on basic definitional and methodological issues and the creation of policy hobbled by an exacting standard the counterterrorist must succeed all the time the terrorist only once as countering terrorism shows there are no simple solutions to this threat
