borsch has not answered all the questions of course who can but his view of the man tradition makes more sense to me than for example perrin s rather cavalier dismissal of the evidence and it not only enlightens but also enlivens the discussion as against the extreme skeptics borsch is also convincing to me in arguing the case for a large measure of authenticity in the son of man tradition in the gospels if the proof of the pudding is in the eating the book constantly calls me back to its pages for insight regarding the problem both in its historical dimension and in its bearing upon the meaning of jesus of nazareth for faith today theology the author is well aware of the difficulties involved in entering a field wherein so much investigation has been done and of this with the positive and negative conclusions he gives an excellent survey crisp and critical the lines opened up will engage the attention of a new and more positive chapter in the form critical argument london quarterly and holborn review frederick h borsch is the retired bishop of the episcopal diocese of los angeles and professor of new testament and chair of anglican studies at the lutheran theological seminary at philadelphia he is also the former dean of the chapel at princeton university his other books include the spirit searches everything keeping life s questions the bible s authority in today s church introducing the lessons of the church year a guide for lay readers and congregations and the christian and gnostic son of man a comprehensive reinterpretation of the pioneering and media savvy artist the modern artist strives to be independent of the public s taste and yet depends on the public for a living petra chu argues that the french realist gustave courbet 1819 1877 understood this dilemma perhaps better than any painter before him in the most arrogant man in france chu tells the fascinating story of how in the initial age of mass media and popular high art this important artist managed to achieve an unprecedented measure of artistic and financial independence by promoting his work and himself through the popular press the courbet who emerges in chu s account is a sophisticated artist and entrepreneur who understood that the modern artist must sell and not only make his art responding to this reality courbet found new ways to package exhibit and publicize his work and himself chu shows that courbet was one of the first artists to recognize and take advantage of the publicity potential of newspapers using them to create acceptance of his work and to spread an image of himself as a radical outsider courbet introduced the independent show by displaying his art in popular venues outside the salon and he courted new audiences including women and for a time courbet succeeded achieving a rare freedom for a nineteenth century french artist if his strategy eventually backfired and he was forced into exile his pioneering vision of the artist s career in the modern world nevertheless makes him an intriguing forerunner to all later media savvy artists
